As outlined in your Cadet Handbook, you are required to bring two pairs of high-quality and supportive athletic shoes (conservative/non-neon colors) which you will wear frequently from the start of Swab Summer, so ensure that they fit correctly and are broken in before you arrive. Asics, Brooks, New Balance, Nike, or Saucony are common brands; however, minimalist shoes (such as Nike Frees) are not recommended.

You will be running on a variety of terrains, so proper arch support and comfort of use for all athletic activities is important and you should bring any custom insoles, orthotics or laces you normally run with. Common injuries resulting from improper/uncomfortable shoes include blisters, shin splints, sprained ankles, and other foot or leg pain. These injuries will negatively impact your training, could prevent you from fully participating in required military obligations, and may ultimately lead to dismissal from the Academy.
